

Communicating our findings – Lesson overview

Learning objectives:

- Describe what a data story is and explain why it is useful in data analytics and data science.
- Discuss how good communication can help us share the insights from our data more effectively.
- List and describe the four principles of the EPIC framework.
- List and describe the three key aspects of data stories and explain how the combination of these aspects supports change.
- Develop and present a data story using the key characteristics of data storytelling and the EPIC framework.

Video

Slide deck

Knowledge questions

Exercise

Reference card

